

Friends of Academic Research in Georgia (FaRiG) 2026 Awards

FaRiG, a registered English charity founded in 2000 by the late Dr John Wilkinson, gives annual grants to Georgian advanced graduate students and post-doctoral scholars working in Georgia in the humanities and encourages the publication of the results outside Georgia. Subject to the quality of applications, FaRiG seeks to provide research grants and an essay prize each year, as well as make some other small grants for research-related purposes. Enquiries may be sent to enquiries@farig.org

2026 FaRiG Gogita Tsetsckhladze Research Grant

This grant is in memory of Gogita Tsetsckhladze (1975-84), brother of the well-known classical archaeologist, Gocha Tsetsckhladze, who died suddenly in 2022. It is for up to £2000 for proposed academic research by scholars living in Georgia and working on Georgia and the Greater Caucasus region, including Black Sea settlements, focussing on the archaeology and history of this region up to AD 700.

2026 FaRiG Georgian European Relations Research Grant

This grant, funded by Professor Hubertus Jahn, for up to £1600 for proposed academic research is open to scholars living and working in Georgia. The research should focus on the history of Georgian European Relations over the centuries.

2026 FaRiG BEWC Greater Caucasus Research Grant

This grant, funded by Britain East-West Centre, for up to £1000 for proposed academic research, is open to scholars living and working in Georgia. The research should focus on the history and culture of Georgia and one (or more) of its neighbours (Armenia, Azerbaijan, North Caucasus, Türkiye, Iran).

2026 FaRiG John Wilkinson Research Grant

This grant for up to £1500 for proposed academic research is open to scholars living and working in Georgia. The research should focus on a topic of Georgia's culture and heritage which needs to be brought to the attention of a wider audience (ie. both inside and outside Georgia).

2026 FaRiG Taqaishvili Research Grant

This grant for up to £1000 for proposed historical research is open to scholars living and working in Georgia. The research should focus on an aspect of Georgia's interactions with Russia over the centuries. This may involve fieldwork and/or deskwork in archives, museums and libraries in Georgia, Russia or elsewhere.

2026 FaRiG Simon Zazadze Research Grant

This grant for up to £1500 for proposed academic research is open to Georgian scholars living and working in Georgia. The research should focus on Georgian-Turkish studies, bearing in mind the rich cultural and historical heritage of the region around the Southern coast of the Black Sea.

2026 FaRiG Polonsky Research Grant

This grant for up to £1000 for proposed academic research is open to Georgian scholars living and working in Georgia. The research should focus on the history and culture of Jewish communities in Georgia and the Caucasus region.

2026 FaRiG NGEF Research Grant

This grant is for up to £1500 for proposed academic research, focusing on the interaction between Georgia and Russia in the visual and performing arts. It is open to Georgian scholars living and working in Georgia.

It is expected that the research will be carried out within twelve months of the award, with a further six months maximum to complete and submit a detailed progress report. The primary criteria for these grants are the quality and viability of the proposed research. In addition, preference will be given to those in early to mid-career (ie. aged 25-45), to applications with co-funding (in cash and/or in kind), to applications for a lesser amount than the maximum and/or where costs are reduced by borrowing equipment rather than buying it, and/or to applications that promise to generate publishable material in English. The grants should be used for project-related out-of-pocket expenses (ie. not salary/honoraria for the applicant). Those who have previously received a research grant from FaRiG under one of these categories may not re-apply within five years of the previous grant.

Please download the relevant application form from www.farig.org and submit it, when completed, by e-mail to Megi Kartsivadze, FaRiG Hon Secretary, at enquiries@farig.org by 28/2/26. Applications should be supported by confidential letters of reference from two academics, who know the applicant's work. Such letters should be sent by the referees direct to the FaRiG Hon Secretary at enquiries@farig.org as attachments and not enclosed with the application. The FaRiG Awards Sub-Committee will award the grants by 15/4/26. Any queries can be sent to enquiries@farig.org

2025 FaRiG Caroline Adams Essay Prize

This essay prize of £500, endowed by Caroline Adams, is open to Georgian scholars for an essay (maximum length in English – 5000 words) on any topic within the humanities with relevance to Georgia and showing a strong interaction with non-Georgian academic research. The judges encourage entries from current students and recent graduates. An essay based on early-stage research will be preferred to a fully-fledged academic article ready for publication. Applicants may be based in any country. The winning essay will be published on the FaRiG website and, it is hoped, in an academic publication. The material must not have previously been published in English.

Please download the application form from www.farig.org . The essay should be sent with the form by email to FaRiG Hon Secretary, at enquiries@farig.org by 28/2/26. The Awards Sub-Committee will award the prize by 15/4/26.

JSTOR

Researchers at TSU, BSU and KSU are reminded that FaRiG introduced their universities to the online repository of academic journals called JSTOR – www.jstor.org. A number of other Georgian institutions also subscribe to JSTOR. Researchers are encouraged to use JSTOR for their work.
